Bracket Finch — A Measured Daily Routine (PDF brochure)

A NOTE FROM BRACKET FINCH

Tone Ledger Brightening Serum is our measured approach to a simple routine. The formula contains 5% niacinamide and 1% tranexamic acid, with both percentages expressed by weight in the finished serum. Choose the 30 mL bottle for a smaller shelf footprint or the 50 mL bottle for a longer routine. Both sizes contain the same formula; bottle size does not change ingredient strength.

YOUR DAILY PAGE

Apply two or three drops to clean, dry facial skin morning and evening, avoiding the eye area. Follow with your usual moisturiser. Patch test before first use. Use sunscreen in the daytime. Stop using the serum if irritation develops. This product is for external cosmetic use, and the routine does not promise treatment of a pigmentation disorder.

WHAT OUR NOTEBOOK RECORDED

“Dark-spot look reduced in 4 weeks” is the wording permitted with our in-house study qualification. Thirty adults aged 25–55 with visible facial dark spots completed an uncontrolled, four-week usage study. They applied the serum twice daily, used the same supplied daytime sunscreen, and avoided introducing other brightening products. Trained internal assessors compared baseline and week-four photographs taken under fixed lighting and camera settings. The statement describes the panel’s average appearance assessment; no percentage reduction is reported. There was no untreated comparison group, and the serum’s contribution cannot be separated from the accompanying sunscreen routine. Individual results varied.
